

Technology Integration and Interoperability Management

Interoperability describes the extent to which systems and devices can exchange data and interpret that shared data. When you integrate your healthcare systems, hospital staff can access the right data at the right time, make better decisions, and improve the organization's efficiency. Our experienced and dedicated development team works in coordination with our clients and technology vendors to define and architect integration solutions, utilizing interoperability to meet and exceed desired goals and initiatives.

Capabilities

- Integration planning
- Design and validation of operational workflow
- Management of third-party solutions integration
- Coordination of testing
- Integration activation and cutover

Benefits

Your data generated by one system will be accessible and able to be used in meaningful ways by other systems to achieve the following:

- Provider access to more complete patient data
- More efficient patient care workflow
- Optimal alert and alarm management for caregivers
- Improved patient outcomes
- Enhanced patient satisfaction
